

Design space

Worksheet

Activity:

Review your brainstormed ideas and think about what makes them interesting, relative to your design brief. Group the ideas into different categories and identify a set of design dimensions where they fit. Lay out the existing ideas along these dimensions (one idea can belong to several dimensions). Next, explore the design space: look for gaps that can be filled with new ideas. See if you can extend dimensions or discover new possibilities at the intersection between dimensions.
